“ Donald was a classmate and friend for many years. He wanted to keep his health issues to himself. He had a great support group of friends who rallied around him, when he needed them the most. He prepared for his final days by requesting to return home, where he had lived with his parents. May God hold those family and friends close in the coming days. I hope everyone can smile as I can, when they think of him.

“ I will be sending prayers for your relatives. Your immediate family was waiting for you at heaven gates. I will always remember the couple of weeks I really got to know you as I drove us to work in Roanoke. We were neighbors in Craig city all those years but I was 11 years younger so it wasn't like we hung out in the same circle. Rest In Peace Donald you will be missed.
