“ I was roommates with Greg at Wingate College and we enjoyed many good times together. His father helped me buy my first car when he was in the car business. Several years ago Greg and I exchanged emails, I wish now we could have gotten together then to rehash old times but it wasn't to be. I happened to be thinking about Greg today and wondered what happened after those emails. I treasure our times together in college and several years after and wish his family comfort. Godspeed dear friend. John Spinks

“ A few years ago, I got an email from Greg. He asked if I remembered him. He said he had reached a point in his life where he realized he had more years behind him than he did in front of him and he wanted to reach out to people who had been important to him throughout his life. Of course, I remembered Greg! He had been my sister's boyfriend in college! I responded to him, AND shared his email with Diane. That exchange resulted in them reconnecting. I only wish they had more years together. Rest In Peace Greg.

“ Greg "Mr. Old", was first my teacher, and then my good friend. No one supported or encouraged my art like he did. He gently pushed my limitations, and made me a better artist for it. I'll comfort and care for your family as best I can Greg. Thank you for all you gave us.
