“ We are on line friends with Lena. Ed and I would like for you to know that you, Willow and Caroline have been in our prayers for weeks during this ordeal. Willow is with Jesus and is being cared for with great love. Our heart aches for your loss and we do know God will continue to give you strength to face tomorrow.

“ My heart breaks for you in this time of loss. I can't imagine how lost you are, but I do know the God we serve and He will comfort you. Take comfort in your family and the people of your church family. God's love shines through His people, just let it wash over you. Just remember that one day you will be together once again with sweet little Willow. Praying for you and Louise. Love you both. Barbara Fridley

“ The Memory that sticks out in my mind is seeing her walking in church in front of Virginia holding on to the walker. That was always so cute. I am so sorry Lena for your loss she was a sweet little girl who will really be missed. She is in Heaven now happy and healthy. I can see her setting on Annie's lap telling her about everything.
Love you!

“ My thoughts and prayers are with all Of the family, and especially to you Aaron. I have prayed so many prayers for little Willows healing. God knew what was best for her, I am sure that Jesus opened his arms wide to welcome her. He loves little children. Now she can run and play like the other children, free from pain. I love you.

“ We didn't know Miss Willow, but I know people that love her and are hurting. My heart breaks for them. There's no doubt you were blessed to have Willow in your lives and you loved her with all your might. I also have no doubt she loved you right back despite her health struggles. The few pictures I've seen show nothing but smiling faces. Your little girl will always remain in your heart and her memory will live on. Those we hold closest to our hearts never truly leave us. They live on in the kindness and lessons they have shared and the love they brought into our lives. Hold tight to all the wonderful memories and know we are praying for your comfort and sending lots of hugs.
